2011 GINO'S VINEYARD ZINFANDEL DRY CREEK VALLEY

"For me, the Sbragia Zinfandel is a Dry Creek classic."

"Good full, dark red. Slightly exotic blackberry, pepper and smoky oak on the nose; "Our Old-World style of Zin," says Adam Sbragia. Then silky and savory in the mouth, with dark berry and licorice flavors complemented but not dominated by smoky oak. Finishes with a savory, saline quality and good supple length."

Named after my dad, this 55-year old vineyard is five acres in size and has a very special place in my heart. Located on a rocky hillside bench on the eastern side of the Dry Creek Valley, it's the place I used to play as a child, and where my son Adam was first introduced to viticulture. The selection of Zinfandel, Carignane and Petite Sirah grown in Gino's Vineyard represents a traditional field blend my Father made each year. -Ed Sbragia

"It defines a lusty, rustic style of California Zinfandel."

- Steve Heimoff, WINE ENTHUSIAST, June 2014
